

H. Bülent Ertan received B.S. and M.S. degrees in Electrical and Electronics Engineering in 1971 and 1973 respectively from the Middle East Technical University (METU) in Ankara, Turkey and Ph.D. degree from the University of Leeds, UK in 1977. He was a Professor in EEE Department of METU and is currently a Professor with Atılım University, Ankara Turkey. He directed many industry supported projects since 1977. He led the Intelligent Energy Conversion Group at TUBITAK (Turkish Scientific and Technological Research Council) Information Technologies and Electronics Research Institute (BILTEN) in Ankara Turkey, between 1999-2006. He has published more than 100 journal and conference papers so far. He is co-editor of a book entitled “Modern Electrical Drives”, Kluwer Academic Publishers, Netherlands, 2000 (NATO ASI series). His research interests are on electrical machine design and drive systems. Professor Ertan is member of the international steering committee of the International Conference on Electrical Machines (ICEM) and founder of the Aegean International Conference on Electrical Machines and Power Electronics (ACEMP). He is member of editorial board of Electromotion Journal and also steering committee member of a number of international conferences. He is a member of Turkish Chamber of Electrical Engineers and a member of IEE (UK) and IEEE.